Misgivings Over 1932 Economies.

£1,462,000 ADDED IN WAR OFFICE VOTE

London, To-day.

The Financial Secretary to the War Office, Mr. A. Duff Cooper introducing the Army estimates in the House of Commons yesterday said that the economies effected in last year's estimates in view of the exceptional financial conditions, were made with great misgiving.

The estimates now presented, represented an increase of £1,462,000. The principal increases were connected with the resumption of Territorial camps and schools' cadet corps.

Referring to the mechanisation of the Army, he said that experience had justified the adoption of the light tractor and one more Field Artillery brigade had been equipped with it.

That they were on the right lines. in the development of mechanical transport, and that the cars in use were admirably adapted for Dominions' and Colonial use, was demonstrated last year, when a convoy of four vehicles, namely a 30-cwt tration of the Nation's gold into Fe-Crossley six-wheeler, a 30-cwt. DEFT TRANSFORMATIONS.

"The smartest thing nowadays is to make over last season's gowns into this season's models," says Helen Hayes, who will soon be seen in Paramount's "A Farewell to Arms." "I find that by the addition of the new collarettes, bibs and capelets the old gowns take on a new lease of life, and often are smarter than before.

"One accessory I am rather partial to is a collarette jacket in black velvet. It is only shoulder length at the back, and slips on over a frock like a jacket; it has short sleeves banded by double ruffles. Another chic idea is an elongated bib, which slips on over the neck and ties at the centre back of the waistline. This also has short sleeves with double ruffles, and merely covers the front of the frock being cut in a V at the sides. The bib of white satin, but would look equally as smart in any other shade.

"THE FLAG LIEUTENANT"-CENTRAL THEATRE.

"The Flag Lieutenant," the current attraction at the Central Theatre, is recommended as one of the best British films seen in Hong by a new process Kong for some time.

A strong cast headed by Henry Edwards, who took the original role in the silent version, and Anna Neagle of "Goodnight Vienna" fame, makes this picture one to be remembered.

Made with the co-operation of the British Admiralty, this British and Dominion film is full of good, clean action set against a colourful naval background. Its mixture of romance, adventure and comedy will be keenly appreciated by those who see this excellent film.

FOOTBALL CAPTURE OF SEASON

Manchester United Secure Neil Dewar.

OFFERS FROM ARGENTINE Fabian's Chance For Cup Final Medal

(By SPOT KICK).

TN securing the transfer of Neil Dewar, the Third Lanark centreforward, for a fee of approximately £5,000. Manchester United have undoubtedly made the capture of the inc season. Dewar will score a lot of goals in English League football. Quite a number of English clubs were interested in this tall, penetrative forward-and considerably more than £5,000 would have changed hands if a "fashionable" club like Arsenal had been prepared to gamble. Arsenal have been criticised for the sums they have asked for players, but their apparently exorbitant demands can be understood when it is remembered that they have to pay more for players than the majority of their competi-

BACK TO THE BEGINNING. T HAVE often wondered where some of the famous footballers hide themselves when their firstclass careers finish. A few continue their association with the game as managers, trainers and coaches, but the majority just disappear. At least one formerly great player is not in a hurry to put aside his football boots. Pym, the one-time Exeter City, Bolton Wanderers and England goalkeeper, holder of three Cup medals, was a goal scoring centre-forward for his native Topsham village club when Exeter found him. After twenty years' experience as a "stopper" he has returned to Topsham to score a few more goals before he retires.

If Pym had had his way Bastin would be a Bolton player to-day. He strongly recommended Bastin to the Wanderers before this talented young forward joined Arsenal.

SUMMER TOURS.

MONTINENTAL clubs are sending many invitations for summer tours to leading English League clubs. There is likely to be a big increase in the number of English teams undertaking Continental tours. It is difficult to refuse the tempting guarantees that help to cover the summer wages bill. I hear that Arsenal are likely to visit Spain, although they do not have to worry over their summer wage bill.

From now until the end of the season-or until the destination of the League championship shield is decided-Arsenal's attention will be divided between their own matches and those in which the Villa and Sheffield Wednesday are engaged.

ARGENTINE WANTS FOOTBALLERS.

THE Argentine is the latest country to enter the market for British Association footballers Platense, a club which last season finished midway in the Argentine First Division, makes the following offer: £20 for passage, £6 a week wages, £1 bonus for a win, 10s. for a draw, and a job which will bring the weekly salary to £10. The player will have the reassuring safeguard of a contract sanctioned by the Argentine Consulate.

If I were a professional footballer, without marital responsibilities, I confess I should find the prospect alluring; but I should insist on a clause ensuring compensation for injury, by shooting or otherwise.

MENTOR AND PUPIL

TO amateur has played in an English Cup-winning team since the Rev. K. R. G. Hunt led Wolverhampton Wanderers to their memvictory over Newcastle United in 1908. The progress of Derby County, who have the former Cambridge captain, A. H. Fabian, in their attack, is therefore particularly interesting.

Hunt now is on the staff at Highgate, where Fabian was educated and whither he has returned as an assistant-master, Hunt's tactical brain was the secret of Wolverhampton's success. It is not difficult to trace his less direct influence over the fortunes of Derby.

FOOTBALL FORM GUIDE

COMPREHENSIVE TABLE SHOWING FORM OF CLUBS AT A GLANCE.

COMPREHENSIVE guide to the form of all the Football League and Scottish League clubs will be found in the tables given below. To assist in comparing the teams, details of how they have fared in the last five League matches are given. The letters W, L and D indicate matches won, lost or drawn respectively. Games played at home are shown in capital letters and away games in smaller type. The figures in brackets denote the position held by that team at the conclusion of last season. The asterisk denotes a promoted team and the sword signifies a relegated team.

Grand National

Blue Riband Of Steeplechasing.

TO BE RUN ON THE 24TH.

(By AJAX.)

TAR. A. C. BOSTWICK and his younger brother, Mr. G. H. ("Pete") Bostwick, are, I hear, expected to arrive in England

As on their previous visits, they will probably take a prominent part in National Hunt racing, and their presence should lend additional inerest to the sport.

The two brothers are enthusiasta. tic and accomplished horsemen, 46 with "Pete," perhaps, the stronger rider. Over hurdles their riding is well up to the average standard of English professional jockeys.

MRS. RAEBURN'S WAXWORK.

He asked: "You knew her?" She did not answer him, but said, still peering: "She was taller, she had more dignity, more of an air. And think she was wilder. But it's long ago," and her face changed all the

He asked again, trembling, his hands clammy cold, his voice unconsciously menacing: "You knew her?"

For the first time the old creature turned to look at him seeming to observe him closely. She chuckled, and at first he thought that one of the waxworks had laughed, so ghostly, so unexpected, was this little bubbling sound in the quietness of the dim hall. She said, still chuckling: "I am Mrs.

And as he did not answer she pulled back her veil. She was younger than he had at first supposed. She revealed a fat, gross, heavy-jowled face, sallow, unhealthy, with high Mongolian cheek-bones. Her nose was squat and thick, her cheeks carved with two deep cut lines running from her nostrils to the corners of her mouth. Her little sharp grey eyes were almost buried in folds of flesh. Beneath the shoddy bonnet a strand of hair hung untidily; it was dyed a bright orange tint. The face, which leered forth so boldly at Patrick, was seamed and stamped with the marks of every foul and obscene vice; brazen, debauched, so brutal as to be three parts animal, it seemed to hang in the air, this gargoyle face, to gloat triumphantly upon his horror and confusion. Then, swiftly, the woman whisked back her veil and said crisply, in her clear and resonant voice:

"It didn't do me justice, your lmage. Then in a moment she was gone, while behind her the effigy of Mrs. Raeburn, poisoner, remained standing cool and pale and remote upon her dais, all the paler, all the cooler, for being now the centre of a flood of cold and frozen moonlight. Patrick fled after the old woman, not because he wished to see her again, but because of the two of them the waxen image had become the more repulsive yet, when he reached the Hall of Monarchs, she had already disappeared. He waited, sick and shivering, untithe clock struck seven and the show shut down, then he went in search of Mr. Mugivan, whom he found in his office, reading an evening paper with his feet on his desk. "Good evening," said Patrick.

want to tell you something." Mr. Mugivan put down his paper. "My word, young fellow, you look cheap. What is it now?"

Patrick, gulping, said: "Do you know who's been here this afternoon?" "I do not," said Mr. Mugivan "I'm proprietor of a waxwork show, not a magician. Who has been here?" "Mrs. Raeburn. The real Mrs. Rac-burn. She came to see her waxwork. She's just gone." As Mr. Mugivan gaped, his red face became curlously mottled—white and purple in patches, Patrick noticed dispassionalely.

"Mrs. Raeburn?"

Mr. Mugivan climbed laboriously from his chair.

"Mrs. Rneburn, ch? Somebody's been pulling your leg. You don't know your catalogue, either. Mrs. Racburn And he pulled a document from the untidy desk, licked his thumb, and flipped over a page. "Mrs. Raeburn," he said, speaking very loud and not looking at Patrick, "was scragged-hanged, you under Mindanao: French training cruiser stand—hanged by the neck for the murder of her husband more than twenty years ago. That being so, you Adamastor. could hardly have seen her here just now. And that's enough of your funny stuff for one day."

Patrick said nothing. There was really nothing to say.
